A few questions this morning to check our hearts as we begin the message:

Don't raise your hand but answer honestly in your heart.

- How many here wake up every morning with their first priority having a closer relationship with Jesus than they did yesterday?
- How many value their relationship with Jesus more than any thing else in the world?
- How many believe that their devotional life, praying and reading the bible is the most important time of their day?
- How many think that the pastor needs to have a closer relationship with Jesus than they do?
- How many think that if Jesus were to come back to take away His church or if this was your last breath that you would go to heaven without a shadow of doubt?
- How many want their church experience to be one of challenge of lifestyle and a call to higher spiritual life a regular basis?
- How many here want their pastor to ask questions like this or would rather not think about it?
- How many here are offended that I did?
- How many here are thankful that we focus on real life issues and what it means biblically to be a true follower of Christ every time we meet?
